

BARNESVILLE OFFICER SEVERELY WOUNDED

Three Brothers and Father Held in Connection With Midnight Shooting.

BARNESVILLE, Ga., June 28.—Major John M. Howard, night policeman here, was severely wounded late Saturday night. Douglas Haywood, 25, is held charged with shooting Major Howard, while his brother, Herbert, 18, is held as an accessory and another brother, Denver Haywood, and J. H. Haywood, father of the three youths, are held on a charge of aiding and abetting.

The shooting occurred about midnight Saturday. Major Howard and Officer H. W. Williams while driving around town in a police car saw Douglas and Herbert Haywood and approached to speak to them, according to the officers. Douglas is said to have shouted, "Don't come any closer," and immediately opened fire striking Major Howard in the right side.

Physicians stated that only the fact that the bullet struck a package of papers, a watch and a wallet in the pocket of the officer's uniform saved him from immediate death. As it is he is given a good chance to recover by physicians.

Douglas Haywood was found about dawn asleep on top of the freight depot.

Major Howard is an officer in the United States army reserve corps and was to have attended the national reserve officers' training camp at Fort Screven in July.

Youthful Crew To Sail Ariadne From Savannah to California

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 28.—(AP)—Six young men, including the young son of Fielding Yost, University of Michigan football mentor, are now aboard the schooner Ariadne, formerly the Mary Pinchot, and will make the trip from Savannah to Los Angeles, Cal., through the Panama canal, when Harvey S. Russell, now owner, begins the first lap of an extensive cruise. The Ariadne is to cruise the South Seas.

Edward Frey, Thomas Deane, Cyrus Newcomb, William McClave, all of Grand Rapids; Fielding Yost Jr., of Ann Arbor and Steve Whalley, of Chicago, make up the group. They will spend four to six weeks aboard the schooner. The length of the trip will depend on the winds which favor or hinder the vessel.

Although equipped with a 300-horsepower Diesel engine, most of the voyage will be under sail power. Most of the rigging has been finished and the task of bending on the sails constitutes the next step in the work.

Thirty years ago the vessel was fashioned, and, despite the buffeting it has received at the hands of many a rough sea, is still staunch. Her cabins betray no telltale cracks of age or straining of timbers. Solid mahogany drawers, perfectly watertight, slide in and out with the ease of 30 years ago.

The engine room of the schooner contains an amazingly compact and nearly bewildering mass of machinery so that electric lights, running water, ice and other conveniences are available. Carl Posen, who was engineer aboard the schooner when it went to sea with Governor Gifford E. Pinchot, of Pennsylvania and his family aboard, is to be engineer on this cruise.

By next Saturday or Monday the schooner will be ready to put to sea. Clearance papers will be obtained from the customs service and the schooner will bid farewell to Savannah.

WAYCROSS, Ga., June 28.—(AP)—Mary Jo Grant, of Jacksonville, Fla., young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Grant, died tonight at 8 o'clock from injuries received in an automobile accident on the Dixie highway north of Waycross Saturday night. An operation followed today, but was ineffectual in saving her life.

Jacqueline Everett, of Waycross, was slightly hurt and two male companions were bruised and slightly cut. The accident occurred when the driver attempted to avoid striking a cow and lost control of the car. The car went into a deep ditch and both of the young ladies were thrown clear of the wreckage.

U. S. BOARD CONSIDERS WHEAT SURPLUS PLANS

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(AP)—The farm board expects to announce by July 1 a definite policy for selling stabilization supplies of wheat.

Urged by President Hoover to reconsider the question, the board has undertaken a survey of the foreign and domestic outlook. From this review Chairman Stone said the board will decide whether to adhere to its present policy or pledge retention of the 200,000,000 or more bushels of wheat from domestic markets for a fixed period, probably a year.

The board is now committed to handle the stabilization supplies "such a way as to impose the minimum of burden on world and domestic markets."

The president took a hand in the situation yesterday, suggesting that "in view of the unusual conditions growing out of the depression," the board consider "a more definite policy."

He had been told the surplus wheat constituted a threat to the domestic markets and that if an agreement was made to hold it off, the present price would improve as much as 10 cents a bushel.

Farmers and traders alike have deluged the board and the White House with appeals for such action. Legislators, including Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, and Senator Watson, of Indiana, the majority leader, also have urged the president to intervene.

Stone and Mr. Hoover discussed the situation Friday morning.

Stone summoned the board into a lengthy special session after the president's request and the plan to review the situation was decided upon.

The board wants a free hand to take advantage of any favorable market to dispose of the wheat. To hold it for a year would cost about $38,000,000 in storage charges on 200,000,000 bushels.

Others of the 17 departments and 21 allied organizations of the National Education Association also met.

Fifty leading singers were guests of the town and county at dinner today at the Callahan hotel and Grady Bell, county attorney, told the convention that next year the visitors would be given a barbecue. The meeting was held in the courthouse, which did not at any time accommodate the crowd.

REPEAL OF INSPECTION LAW GIVEN APPROVAL

MONTEZUMA, Ga., June 28.—Interest of peach growers of Macon county is centered in the bill introduced in the legislature to repeal the peach and apple inspection law. Growers in this county are for repeal of this law, which was passed by the general assembly in 1927 and amended in 1929. They feel that the law has cost them thousands of dollars and that it has worked solely to the interest of the commission merchants and buyers of peaches, in that it has forced the grower to place upon his package a mark which condemned it in the eyes of the speculator and yet did not affect the retail sale at the destination.

CONSTRUCTION SEEN AS DEPRESSION CURE

NEW YORK, June 28.—(AP)—Large scale construction of needed public works by national, state and local governments during periods of depression is urged by Colonel Arthur Woods, chairman of the president's committee on unemployment, in an article in the American Architect. Such construction, he said, can keep men at work if planned and timed wisely. He estimated public works at approximately $3,500,000,000 in a normal year. This is about one-third of all construction, and about 80 percent the total, he said, was paid to labor.

TALLAPOOSA, Ga., June 28.—The city school system of this city was merged into the county system Saturday by a vote of 102 to 3 in a special election called by Mayor W. T. Eaves. She had been Savannah's only woman alderman, having been appointed by the late Mayor Murray M. Stewart in 1922 to fill a vacancy on the board. As a candidate later in a municipal election she, as did other women candidates on an opposition ticket, failed of election.

IT HAPPENED IN GEORGIA

Mrs. Jack Corbett, resident of Lowndes county, was fishing from a boat, last week, in Hammock lake. An alligator appeared close by the boat and refused to leave when Mrs. Corbett tried to scare it with noise. Going to her home she got a .32 rifle, reentered her boat, rowed up near the alligator and killed him with one shot. He measured eight and a half feet in length.

Mayor Pro Tem. R. S. Richardson, of Valdosta, was fishing last Friday night. In the early evening he got two strikes but nary a catch. After the moon had reached the southern half of the sky—which fishermen claim is the lucky half, he felt what at first seemed like a small fish biting. Then his pole snapped, but, holding on, he fought out a successful battle with a bass weighing 101-4 pounds.

Judge Roscoe Luke, of the Georgia court of appeals, speaking in Thomasville on Sunday, said the legislature could solve the state's financial problems in simple manner if both houses would adopt one simple procedure. That is, agree to consider no legislation except local bills until the appropriation and tax bills have been passed and signed by the governor.

TIAL OF CALDWELL ENTERS FOURTH WEEK

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 28.—(AP)—The trial of Rogers Caldwell, investment banker, charged with fraudulent breach of trust, will move into its fourth week tomorrow, with indictments pointing to an early completion of the state's case.

J. Carlton Loser, assistant district attorney-general, said today that the state will require a short time to present evidence if certain records can be found, but if they cannot be found the state will rest its case immediately on opening of court tomorrow.

McDONALD IN PERIL AS LIBERALS SPLIT

Tenure of British Premier's Labor Cabinet Is Threatened.

BY KEITH JONES.
LONDON, June 28.—(UP)—The liberal party was split tonight by an open revolt against David Lloyd George, threatening to force the downfall of Prime Minister MacDonald's labor cabinet.

Following the example of Sir John Simon, who resigned from participation in affairs of the liberal parliamentary party, two other prominent liberals wrote Sir Archibald Sinclair, the chief liberal whip, dissociating themselves from the parliamentary party. The "two" were Sir Robert Hutchison, former chief liberal whip, and Ernest Brown.

The revolting liberals have objected the concessions made by Lloyd George in connection with his unofficial agreement to support the MacDonald government, which has been kept in office by the liberals.

"It is the disintegration of the liberal party," said the conservative Daily Telegraph.

Wresting Secrets From Past Brings Honor to Scientists

BY F. B. COLTON.
WASHINGTON, June 28.—(AP)—Finding ways to date events of prehistoric times and reconstruct weather of the past 4,000 years has brought special honors to an American and Swedish scientist.

The Smithsonian Institution Saturday announced research corporation prizes of $2,500 each have been awarded to Dr. Andrew Ellicott Douglass, director of Steward observatory of the University of Arizona, and Dr. Ernst Antevs, of the University of Stockholm, "for effective scientific research."

Dr. Douglass discovered that the rings marking the growth of trees can be used to determine dates of events that occurred before written history began. He found also that the rings pictured the climate from year to year, because each ring varied in width in direct proportion to the amount of rainfall.

Dr. Antevs made similar discoveries about the annual deposits of clay called "varves." A new varve, or layer, was deposited each year by water from melting glaciers. The varves are held as good a key to climates of the past as are tree rings. A thick varve means a large supply of water carrying sediment, and hence plentiful sun that year to melt the glacier from which the water came. Thin varves indicate little sunshine.

FOOTPRINT ON ROOF LEADS TO ARREST

Bare footprints on the roof of Harry Sommers, Inc. Chrysler sales and service headquarters at 446 Spring street, resulted in the arrest of Ernest Bellinger, negro, on a charge of burglary. In answer to a call from a near-by resident to the effect that he had seen a prowler in the place, a police radio cruiser manned by Patrolman Fred Tippen and Fred Norton arrived at the scene, but could find no one in the building. More policemen arrived, but after a fruitless search all but Tippen and Norton departed. Tippen then climbed onto the roof and found the imprints of a bare foot and a broken skylight. He and his partner went inside again and found Bellinger underneath an automobile, holding himself off the floor by the chassis.

Bellinger put up a fight, according to the two patrolmen, but they subdued him with their billys, and brought him to the station. The negro said that he had gotten in without any trouble, and that he had planned to steal a car, but was unable to open the doors.

CHAMBERLIN TO FLY RUTH NICHOLS HOME

SAINT JOHN, N. B., June 28.—(AP) Ruth Nichols will get her wish—she'll fly home.

The Rye, N. Y., aviatrix, injured when her plane was wrecked in landing at the Saint John airport Monday evening, will be placed on a hospital cot and taken home Tuesday by Clarence Chamberlin, New York trans-Atlantic flyer. He arrived here Monday night shortly after Miss Nichols' crash.

Chamberlin was managing Ruth's attempted trans-Atlantic hop, which was put off until September after her accident.

Miss Nichols' injured back will be placed in a cast tomorrow and other hospital preparations made for her plane trip.

GRAF ZEPPELIN FLIGHT OVER ARCTIC IS URGED

BERLIN, June 28.—(AP)—Efforts are being made to induce Dr. Hugo Eckener to take the Graf Zeppelin over the arctic wastes of North America next summer, Lieutenant Commander Edward S. Smith, of the United States coast guard, said today.

Commander Smith will be a member of the Graf polar expedition next month as a representative of the Aerial Arctic Society, assigned to study the nature of icebergs.

OUSTER OF BRODERICK AGAIN IS DEMANDED

NEW YORK, June 28.—(AP)—V. Kingsland Macy, republican state chairman, today made public a letter to Governor Roosevelt in which he asks the governor to reconsider his refusal to remove Joseph A. Broderick, state superintendent of banks.

Macy has demanded Broderick's removal with the assertion that the banking official was responsible for the "most tragic scandal of its kind in this state," the failure of Bank of United States case.

Stillman, were preparing today to quit the cottage they have occupied here since their marriage early in the month, and start toward Chicago, where McCormick is an executive of the International Harvester Company.

Traveling by automobile the couple will leave tomorrow to spend several days at Mrs. McCormick's estate near Pleasantville, N. Y., and then proceed to Chicago.

Miss Brumfield was rescued by two boatmen who left before police could obtain their names. RUBIO SLAYER AWAITS SECOND CHARGE TODAY

ARDMORE, Okla., June 28.—(AP)—Freed by a jury Saturday on charges of the murder of Emilio Cortes Rubio, kinsman of the president of Mexico, William E. Guess, former Carter county deputy sheriff, tomorrow morning was to hear whether he is to be tried later for the slaying of Rubio's companion, Manuel Garcia Gomez.

Also awaiting the decision of prosecutors was another former deputy sheriff, Cecil Crosby, who was with Guess the night of June 7, when Rubio and Gomez were killed on a quiet Ardmore street while passing through by automobile en route home from an American college.

Guess still faces a charge of murder for the shooting of Gomez, while Crosby, who fired no shots, is charged with murder also in connection with each case. Guess was tried first on the Cortes Rubio charge. Crosby has declared he will demand trial "to clear my name."

Aimee McPherson's Mother Weds In Outdoor Midnight Ceremony

LONGVIEW, Wash., June 28.—(AP) Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, evangelist mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, became Mrs. G. E. Hudson shortly after midnight today when she was married in an outdoor ceremony on the banks of Lake Sacajawea, in the heart of Longview. The Rev. J. G. Gay performed the ceremony.

The wedding originally was set for 2 p. m. today, but was hastened when Mrs. Kennedy learned newspapermen were informed of her plans. A simple Angelus temple double-ring ceremony was read. In it Mrs. Kennedy promised "to love, honor and serve" her husband, whose home is New York city.

The marriage service was performed in the presence of the minister's wife, their young son, Ralph Gay, who was best man, and Mrs. Beatrice Oliver, former editor of the Angelus temple Crusader, who stood with the bride.

After the ceremony the party left in "Ma's" automobile, which her husband drove. Their destination was unknown.

"She seemed very happy," the Rev. Mr. Gay said. "She made a very pretty picture in the moonlight with the lakeside shrubbery as a background."

The minister said he knew very little about Hudson but described him as an amiable, affable gentleman, about 50 years old.

The Rev. Mr. Gay said he understood Hudson intended to help "Ma" with her evangelistic work. He said they chose Longview for the marriage partly because of their friendship for the minister and because of an attachment formed when "Ma" preached here several years ago.

At Los Angeles, Mrs. McPherson, through F. C. Winters, business manager of Angelus temple, said she was unaware that her mother had left southern California, much less that she was to be married.

RELIGIOUS NEGLECT CHARGED TO SCHOOLS

UNIVERSITY, Va., June 28.—(AP) Early arrivals for the fifth Institute of Public Affairs, to be held here tonight to hear an address by Dean Luther A. Weigle, of the Yale Divinity school.

Dean Weigle asserted that public schools have drifted far toward completely ignoring religion and God not so much because of the activities of infidels and atheists as on account of persons who speak in the name of religion. His address, at the vespers service, was a forerunner of the formal opening of the institute, which is scheduled for tomorrow night.

John Stewart Bryan, Richmond publisher, will substitute for Governor Pollard in the opening exercises tomorrow night. Each morning and afternoon there will be round-table discussions of such topics as law enforcement, Latin-American relations, prob-

WOMAN BADLY INJURED AFTER DRINKING PARTY

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 28.—(UP)—A girl who gave her name as Peggy Daly, believed to be Mrs. Nadran, formerly of Philadelphia, was found unconscious in a street here today. She apparently had jumped from a window after a severe beating. One youth is held by police and another is sought.

From her incoherent mutterings authorities got an unsatisfactory story. She said she lived in Brooklyn and formerly lived in Philadelphia. Police believe she separated from her husband about two years ago and came here.

She had been seen Saturday night with Harry Lynch and Edward Delaney in a tour of speakies. Later they returned to Lynch's home, neighbors said.

Delaney was questioned for several hours and said he had quarreled with the girl and that she had leaped from the window. He denied he had struck her.

Crackers Divide Pair With Marines; Rise to Second Place; Stribling Closes Boxing Drill for Fight in Four Rounds

OBBER'S CLIMB AS CHICKS WIN; HEAD FOR HOME

Atlanta Bows, 3-2; Wins, 7-2; Meet Barons Here Tonight.

MOBILE, Ala., June 28.—Atlanta's Crackers divided a double bill with the Marines here this afternoon and departed for their home pastures occupants of second place in the Southern league race. Milt Stock's side won the first, 3-2, but the Dobbins countered with a 7-2 decision in the short affair.

Meanwhile Memphis was trimming Chattanooga twice, and the whole business left the Chicks and the Lookouts tied in third place with percentages of .533 apiece. These Crackers, though, wound up with a .534, just good enough for place money at the moment.

RED HARD. The Crackers might conceivably have done better. They dropped the first game because they were unable to bunt hits off Red Oldham and because they were unable to score.

The Crackers, in the first game, scored two runs in the second inning. Chapman went safe when McDaniel dropped his infield fly. Shirley doubled to send Chapman to third. Ryan doubled, scoring Chapman and Shirley. The Crackers were helpless against Oldham after this frame, obtaining but three more hits.

A triple by Freigau and a single by Bader gave the Marines their first run in their second of the second.

The Marines tied the score in the fifth when Hutson singled with one down, stole second and scored as McDaniel singled behind second base. Sheehan then threw.

Mobile continued to threaten to score off Messenger in the sixth and seventh, but the Crackers earlier out of trouble. Bader started the ninth for the Marines with a double and Oldham bunted to Shirley and Bader beat the throw to third. When Benton tied to Taitt, who made a poor throw to the plate, Bader scored the winning run.

SLIPPING THROUGH. In the second game each team counted two runs in the fourth inning to leave things tied.

Taitt led the Crackers' fourth with a single to right and reached second when Rosenthal bobbled the ball. Carley sacrificed Taitt to third and he scored when Shirley singled to right. Chapman continued the hitting with a single to right to move Shirley to third. Ryan scored behind and scored on Taitt's sacrifice and a single by Carley.

Two runs were added by the Crackers in the sixth off Johnny Walker, who succeeded Bass on the mound after the latter had been erased for a pinch hitter.

Atlanta counted two more runs in the seventh, Taitt singling and Carley tripling for the first and Ryan singling to score Carley with the other.

The Crackers departed for home at 9 o'clock tonight. Manager Dobbins announced that Johnny Harrison would pitch the Monday night game against Birmingham.

Strib and Max Promise Best Title Bout Since Dempsey-Firpo Battle

YOUNG FIGHTERS READY TO SHOOT WORKS IN CLASH

Prospect Pleases Bob Edgren; Meeting Should Make History.

By Robert Edgren.

CLEVELAND, June 28.—Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world, and Willie Stribling, of Georgia, promise to put up a fight from the first round at Cleveland July 3.

There is every reason in the world to believe that this will be the best heavyweight title fight since Dempsey and Firpo fought at the Polo Grounds, N. Y., last August. The two fighters are elements that cannot be overlooked.

GOOD YOUNGSTERS.

In many of our big title battles a young and perfectly conditioned challenger has met a faded and weary title holder. Here are two youngsters who have shown their class. Schmeling, with a background of only a year or so of fights in Europe, came to this country and easily climbed to the top. He beat a good rugged young heavyweight who had shown plenty of promise. He beat a fast and clever light heavyweight. That started him and he was matched with rubbery Johnny Risko, considered a sure winner.

Risko had fought them all and had whipped most of them. Max knocked him down and nearly put in the first round. Risko was saved by the bell. Then Max laid back and boxed deliberately to encourage Risko and make the baker boy come rushing in again. That's the style of fighting he likes. Let the other fellow tear it and Schmeling knows what to do.

OTHER FIGHTS.

Against the rushing, slam-bang Paolino, Schmeling fought the fight of a master. He crouched low, let Paolino's swings graze his chest and punched Paolino until he was bewildered, and in the twelfth round stood up straight and tore him to pieces. It was Paolino's amazing victory, and nothing else that carried him to the end of the fifteenth round, eyes shut tight and battered out of shape, but still on his feet.

After that Schmeling returned from Germany to fight Jack Sharkey. Up to the fourth round Sharkey hammered him. It was Schmeling's plan of battle to let Sharkey fight himself out in the first six rounds, then go after him.

After that third round he told McGowan that he was fighting for the sixth. It was time to start.

BIG RUSH.

Unweakened and unhurt, without a mark to show the effect of Sharkey's heaviest punches, Max started with a rush. He drove Sharkey back, kept him going back, socked him with jarring right-hand smashes on the chin and was attacking furiously when Sharkey, driven off balance and he

BRITISH CROWN

QUEST REOPENS OVER NET TODAY

Stars Rest at Wimbledon; Begin Quarter-Finals Next.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 28.

The second week of play in the British tennis championships, starting tomorrow, finds America with three survivors in men's singles and one in the women's division. Competition in both singles divisions has reached the quarter-final round.

America's hopes look brightest in men's singles, where John Van Ryn, Frank Shields and Sidney B. Wood remain to battle for the championship against the three Britains, H. W. (Bunny) Austin, Fred Perry and G. P. Hughes; the Japanese, Jiro Satoh, and the favored Jean Borotra, of France.

Tomorrow's pairings pit Shields against Austin, Borotra against Satoh, Wood against Hughes, and Van Ryn against Perry.

Experts summing up the chances of these last eight survivors consider the home-breds have a difficult task ahead of them against the "hitting Americans with their destructive service," that Borotra is as formidable as ever and that Satoh will prove a hard man to beat.

The quarter-finals in women's singles, in which Helen Jacobs, of Berkeley, Cal., is the only American survivor, will be played later in the week. The other seven survivors are Betty Nuthall, Dorothy Round and Miss M. C. Scriven, of Great Britain; Hilda Kravinkal and Cecile Aussem, of Germany; Mme. Rene Mathieu, of France, and Mlle L. Payot, of Switzerland.

Miss Jacobs' quarter-final round opponent will be Miss Nuthall.

Well-known players, Coach, losing pitcher, Perrell, Umpire, Hildebrandt, Guthrie and Van Graffan. Time of game, 2:25.

Masters Gather at Inverness, Polish Strokes In Last Drive.

By Paul Mickelson.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 28.—(UP)—"On to Inverness" was the cry of the world's master linksmen today as they loaded their favorite war clubs and set out for the one ribbon show of American golf, the 1931 national open championship, which starts with Thursday's dawn and closes Saturday night.

From scattered sections of the globe they came—148 picked craftsmen of the old Scotch pastime—all fired with ambition to blast their way into the top group with the link of gold kings, Bobby Jones, so calmly walked.

It was not the largest field in the big show's 37 years but it looked like the swiftest and the toughest. England made its greatest invasion with a dozen of its finest players; two came from France, one from Germany, another from the Philippines and the rest of the world was comprised of America's greatest stars.

Many of them were on deck playing practice rounds over the championship Inverness club today. Inverness was ready to test them in every department of the game. The contenders already on the scene were so impressed with the course's stubbornness that they predicted four rounds of 73, two over par, on each trip, would be good enough to win, although a much classier field was in the fight this time as compared with 1929.

Almost all the scores in the early drills were around 75 upards, although Percy Allis, of France, and Clarence Gamber, long-driving professional from Detroit, did equal par on one trip with 71.

From past performances and the type of game called for on the Inverness layout nine Americans and one Briton were ready to take the lead to win the crown. Topping them all came Tommy Armour, the fighting Scot from Detroit. His principal American rivals, any one of whom wouldn't stun the golfing world by a victory, included Gene Sarazen, gunning for his second open title; Walter Hagen, the former king of golf, who demonstrated his return to the so convincingly in the western open and Ryder cup matches; MacDonald Smith, who just missed the title last year to a 19-hole playoff; and four others: Wiffy Cox, Brooklyn star who promises to come through any time now; Al Espinosa, who led the nation's field in the quality of his rounds with his great 135 at Chicago; "Light Horse" Harry Cooper, Chicago's diminutive ace; Denmore Shute, another of the Ryder cup fighters, and Ed Dudley, new western open champion.

The big British threat was Henry Cotton, who refused to play on the English Ryder cup team because he couldn't go and come as he chose to on this side of the water. During the Ryder cup matches, young Cotton turned out to be a real Inverness and impressed the galleries with his game.

Britishers Beat Michigan Team.

DETROIT, June 28.—(UP)—The British Ryder cup team defeated a team of Michigan professional golfers in the Hawthorne Country Club course today by a score of 8 to 7.

Archie Compston and George Duncan defeated Charles Hildner and Beano Paulk, 2 to 1; Tommy Armour and Clarence Gamber, 2 to 1; and Bert Hoson defeated Dave Robertson and Bob Grady, 2 to 1. Walter Hagen and Watson tied with Syd Webster and Jimmy Zolner, 1 to 1; Nick Weber and Arthur Havers, 3 to 0.

Races at Lakewood Draw Star Drivers

Names of drivers listed to start in the Lakewood park auto races next Saturday afternoon make that entry list much like the one at the Indianapolis speedway on May 30 as the result of the successful efforts of Manager Oscar Mills to bring the foremost American drivers here for the first celebration.

A half dozen great speedway drivers have signified their intentions of bringing their new machines to Atlanta during the coming week. These, coupled with the best dirt track drivers that the south has produced, promise to make up the greatest field that ever went to the tape at Lakewood.

Right now officials are attempting to pacify sanction board officials who have suspended Louis Schneider in the big feature of the Fourth program, much attention is being given to the water sports events to be held at the lake which forms the infield for the mile oval.

Glen Arven Tourney To Draw 100 Golfers

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 28.—The entry list for the thirteenth annual Fourth of July golf tournament, which begins at the Glen Arven links here July 1 and runs through July 4, will close Tuesday evening.

Glen Arven officials announce that many entries have already been received and it is expected that not less than 100 will be off for the qualifying rounds Wednesday. Pairings for all flights will be announced late Wednesday afternoon.

Kirkwood Is Fourth In German Tourney

BERLIN, June 28.—(UP)—Rene Gollas, of France, won the annual German open golf tournament today with an aggregate score of 268, two strokes less than the card of Marcel Dallemagne, another French professional.

CLEVELAND, June 28.—Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world, and Willie Stribling, of Georgia, promise to put up a fight from the first round at Cleveland July 3.

There is every reason in the world to believe that this will be the best heavyweight title fight since Dempsey and Firpo fought at the Polo Grounds, N. Y., last August. The two fighters are elements that cannot be overlooked.

GOOD YOUNGSTERS.

In many of our big title battles a young and perfectly conditioned challenger has met a faded and weary title holder. Here are two youngsters who have shown their class. Schm

Capital Sees Lasting Quality In Recent Business Upturn

Sullivan Finds Hoover Debt Pronouncement Came at Psychological Moment for Advance.

BY MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(AP)—The sensational change in the business psychology of the whole world that occurred last week is universally attributed to President Hoover's action in Washington, however, that the change could not have occurred and cannot go ahead unless the fundamental factors are right. It has been the belief in Washington since before June 1 that the destructive forces of business disintegration had largely worked themselves out and that conditions were right for the beginning of recovery.

As of about the first of June, there were two principal conditions about which those most responsible in Washington were vigilant. One was the state of farm crops in America. It was believed that, as respects America, even other important condition was sound and that if farm crops should turn out to be good, this condition would set business recovery on its way. In short, the expectation was that business in general would watch the week-to-week report of the department of agriculture on the state of growing crops. If the reports would show normal progress until about September, marked business recovery would be evident about that time. Crop reports up to date are favorable, and there is no anxiety about that condition although it is impossible wholly to forget so recent an experience as the drought that came in the late summer of last year.

The other condition, which has been a matter of concern to Washington for several weeks, was central and European Europe. It was realized that much of the continuation of financial depression during April and May, expressing a belief in the forced sale of securities in New York, was directly due to banking and currency difficulties in Austria, Germany, and some other countries of eastern Europe. Banks in all of these countries, being forced to liquidate, had caused a general liquidation that caused much of Europe to throw the best American securities on the market. In addition, the measure of revolution in Germany has caused an increasingly urgent flight of capital from that country.

If, as seems to be the case, the immediate financial crisis in Germany as well as Austria, has been cured by the action about postponement of debts, that one of the causes of depression in America will be ended.

One of the principal reasons for confidence in the lasting quality of the rise in business barometers that occurred last week is the fact that it is worldwide. Enormous values have been added to commodities, crops and securities in literally every country in the world.

In spite of all the evidence, there is some apprehension in Washington about the sensational magnitude and extent of the rise. The addition of nearly ten billion dollars to the value of crops, commodities and securities in America cannot be repeated week after week. At some point, the rise in prices must pause to wait for actual volume of industrial activity to catch up. It is realized that there are some real, even though relatively minor obstacles to be hurdled before business can go on to high tide.

In any event the seven days ending at 6 o'clock Saturday night, which began with President Hoover's announcement the Saturday before, composed a remarkable week. It probably justifies even the excited assertions of Europeans that politically and internationally it was the most important week since the armistice.

W. B. BEAUCHAMP DIES IN VIRGINIA

degree of doctor of divinity from Randolph-Macon and the honorary degree of doctor of laws from Southern College, Lakeland, Fla. He was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

From the time of his ordination to the Methodist ministry in 1893, Bishop Beauchamp devoted himself to the work of the church, filling posts of national and international responsibility. From 1893 to 1903 he occupied pastorates in the Virginia conference. He was married during his Virginia residence to Miss Blanche Whitehurst, of Norfolk. They had eight children: Mrs. Virginia B. Murden, Portsmouth; Miss Margaret and William B. Beauchamp, of Atlanta; Luke Granberry, Virginia; Harriet Gouber, Elizabeth; and Beulah, of Richmond.

From 1903 to 1907 Bishop Beauchamp was pastor of the Fourth Avenue Methodist church, Louisville, Ky., coming back to Virginia at the close to serve pastorates in Danville and Portsmouth until 1917, when he was elected general secretary of the laymen's missionary movement and transferred to Nashville.

A short time later he was called to head the centenary campaign, a position he held until elevated to the episcopacy in 1922.

His activity in behalf of missions made him a prominent figure in the church. He gained a reputation as a deep thinker, a fervent speaker and a church leader with an intimate knowledge of world conditions in the mission field.

Bishop Beauchamp's health failed during his later years but he was able to continue his work as a bishop of the church. The failure of his health was attributed by physicians to overwork.

JULY 4TH FESTIVITIES PLANNED AT CAMP HIGHLAND

Robin Hood Archery Contest, Swimming Meet Featured

A Robin Hood archery contest, swimming meet and barbecue will furnish entertainment, exercise and appetizing food for visitors at Camp Highland on the Fourth of July, when the Y. W. C. A. invites friends to spend their holiday at camp. July 4 is traditional "open camp day" at Highland, when the general public is invited to see the camp grounds and watch the girls at their activities. As Highland is located only 12 miles from Atlanta, it affords a nice drive out the Marietta Highway and then two miles into the country, and the campers enjoy cool breezes from the high hills surrounding the camp buildings, and the cool, shady nooks along the Nickajack creek provide comfortable, pleasant retreats during the hottest part of the day. Visiting hours Saturday will be from 12 to 5 o'clock, and at 2:30 o'clock the guests will be invited to join the ranks of Robin Hood and test their skill at archery. Sides will be chosen, with Robin Hood competing against Little John. Then, amid great rivalry, the best marksman will be acclaimed and applauded. The contest will be open to everybody, regardless of age, size or amount of barbecue previously eaten.

Swimming Meet.

At 3:30 o'clock the guests will go down the hill to the swimming pool, where the campers will stage an exciting swimming meet. Miss Virginia Carmichael and Miss Bobbie Skeen have planned thrilling aquatic feats which will demonstrate the skill and grace of the swimmers and amuse and entertain the spectators. Those planning to go out for the Fourth only should notify the Y. W. C. A. at 37 Auburn avenue, by Thursday, so reservations may be made at camp. Those wishing to spend the week-end may go out Friday afternoon and remain until 7:10 a. m., Monday. A registration fee of $1 is necessary for the week-end, and should be paid at information desk 37 Auburn avenue, and reservations should be in the office by Thursday noon.

Miss Bobbie Skeen, of Decatur, one of the most popular counselors last year, is at Camp Highland for several weeks. Miss Skeen, whose talents are varied, will assist with music and will act as assistant swimming instructor and life saver.

The director's cottage, known as the "Seaside," which perches on the high hill overlooking Shark Row, has been attractively redecorated by Mrs. Fred Patterson, who is chairman of the camp committee. Fresh new draperies wave a cheery greeting to all passers-by and gay pillows and rugs make the cottage quite cozy and comfortable. Miss Helen Reppes is swimming instructor at the Y. W. C. A. pool, located at 37 Auburn avenue and has always been noted for her purity and the extra precautions taken to assure thoroughly sanitary conditions. Now that the sun's rays beat so mercilessly out-of-doors, the coolness and protection offered by the indoor location enhance its popularity. The Y offers all the conveniences of a club, with suits, towels, hot and cold showers furnished. The pool is open from 11 to 1 o'clock and 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock every day except Saturday for dips, as Saturdays are given over to the children. Instruction for women, girls and little boys is available at different hours during the week. Fridays are unusually popular as mothers come for a club class at 3 o'clock; little girls are given instruction at 3:30 o'clock and little boys (up to 12 years) have classes from 4 to 4:30 o'clock. The Y is proud to boast of several families who take advantage of this convenient schedule and have lots of fun watching each other learn the art. Another favorite feature is the dip for mothers and children on Wednesdays from 3 to 4 o'clock. Further information about class periods may be secured by calling Walnut 8961.

INSTALLMENT XL

Gaigern continued to smoke. The word aroused in him an odd feeling of professional sympathy, and with it a strong and contemptuous dislike of the corpulent and perspiring director. You need a few leeches applied to you, my friend, he thought to himself.

"Let the poor devil have his fun," he said half aloud. "You can see he's not long for this world."

"I didn't ask for your advice, thought Preysing, but he did not venture to say it; for he suspected that he would meet more than his match in the baron. "Would you be so good as to inform Fraulein Flammchen that I am waiting for her in the lounge on a matter of urgent importance. If she does not come by 6 o'clock, I shall not require her services," he said, bowed, stiffly, and retired.

Alarmed by this ultimatum, Flammchen appeared in the lounge at three minutes to 6. Preysing, who had been sitting on hot bricks, got up with a smile of heart-felt relief. He smiled so seldom that it came as an engaging surprise.

"There you are," he said foolishly. He looked Flammchen up and down from her crossed legs in silk stockings to her cut-glass beads and her painted mouth (she was pursing her lips and touching them up at that moment).

Flammchen snapped her powder box and asked: "Well, what is it about?"

Preysing kept on with his cigar and said it all in a breath.

"It is that I have to go to England and I want to take a secretary with me. In the first place for my correspondence, but also for the sake of a little company. I am very nervous, very nervous (he said this by way of an unconscious bid for her sympathy), and need some one on the journey who will take care of me. I offer you a confidential post in which it—in which you—in which—"

"I understand perfectly," Flammchen said quietly, when he got tied up.

"I think we could put up with each other very well on the journey," said Preysing. "You told me that you had traveled last year, too, with some body and that made me think—I think it might be very fine if you only would. Will you?"

Flammchen thought it over for five long minutes.

"I must think it over first," she said, and then she sat lost in reflection and puffed at her indispensable cigar.

"To England?" she said at last. The golden brown of her skin had become rather lighter, and this perhaps showed that she had grown paler. "I have never been to England yet. And for how long?"

"For—I can't say exactly at the moment. It depends. If the business I have there goes off well I would possibly take a fortnight's holiday afterwards. We could stay in London or go to Paris."

"It will go off all right, I'm sure. I could tell that from the letters," said Flammchen with assurance. Optimism was the element she lived in. Preysing was cheered by the fact that she knew about the affair he had on hand and that she prophesied success.

"You must tell me, too, what salary you ask," he said in a flattering tone.

This time it took Flammchen even longer to reply. She had to draw up a comprehensive balance sheet. The remuneration of the incident affair with the handsome baron figured on it. Then there were one or two little bills, requirements in the way of new clothing, pretty shoes—the blue ones were nearly done. The small capital that would be necessary to launch her on a career in the films, in revue, or elsewhere. Flammchen made a clear survey of the chances the job offered her. "A thousand marks," she said. It sounded a princely amount.

"Perhaps a little extra for clothes to travel in," she added, a little more timidly than was usual with her. "You must be to look my best, naturally."

"You need no clothes for that. On the contrary," Preysing said with warmth. He considered this a most apt rejoinder. Flammchen greeted it with a melancholy smile which showed up strangely on her blooming pansy-like face.

"That's settled, then?" said Preysing. "There are one or two things to be seen to here tomorrow. We must have our passports in order. Then we could set off the day after. Are you glad to go to England?"

"Very," answered Flammchen. "Then I'll bring my little portable here tomorrow and I could take down any letters right away."

"And tonight—if you'd like it, I thought we might go to the theater. We must at any rate have a glass of wine to seal our contract."

"Tonight, too," said Flammchen. "Very well, tonight, too." She blew her lock of hair aloft and dropped her extinguished cigar end in the ash tray. She could hear the music from the Yellow Pavilion distinctly. One can't have everything, she thought. A thousand marks. New clothes. London, too, was not to be despised. Must telephone to my sister," she said as she got up.

Kringelein, motorist, flyer and conqueror, went furiously on with the day on which he had begun to live. Perhaps he felt very like those stunt fliers who pass within an ace of death as they loop the loop. He had begun to throw overboard over and over now he was whirling on in obedience to forces he could not control. To turn about would mean a crash, and so he heaved his way to his seat towards, downwards, upwards, he could not tell whether, for his sense of direction was lost. He was tiny hurtling comet that soon must burst into atoms.

Once more Gaigern's car hummed along the Kaiserdamm, once more he was at the hub of modern Berlin. In front of the Sperdalle there was a black and compact throng. Kringelein had never seen anything so immense as the interior of the hall and never such a mass of people in one place. He made his way to his seat through an elbowing crowd, following Gaigern who went on before like a tower. It was well to the front, close to the bare and brilliant illuminated square patch on which the eyes of 14,000 people were concentrated. Gaigern went into many explanations, but Kringelein did not understand a word. He was afraid this time, too; for he could not endure the sight of blood and fighting and barbarity. He looked with alarmed amazement at the men of muscle as they stepped into the ring and took off their dressing gowns and exposed their hard fists. He heard the stentorian voice of the announcer and clapped whenever everybody else clapped. If it gets too bad, I shall look away, he thought in secret when the first round began. But, at first, it looked to him as if the two fine sinewy fellows up there with their broken noses were only going to fool about. "They are playing like kittens," he said to himself, and smiled with relief. Gaigern, on the other hand, was now so intense and excited that Kringelein wondered. The hall was still and so were the boxes. Then, in the midst of the stillness, came the dull thud of leather-clad fists, and a thrill went through the hall from end to end and right up to the gallery, below the roof, where a thousand faces looked through the haze. More, thought Kringelein, for the sound of the blow filled him with a sweet and feverish satisfaction that quickly turned to hunger. The gong clanged in no time, and men sprang over the ropes with jugs, chairs, sponges and towels. The boxers lay in their corners breathing hard. Their tongues hung out like the tongues of hunted animals. Water was sprinkled over them, but they were not allowed to drink even a mouthful. Some of the splashes even fell on Kringelein below, and he wiped the drops from his coat with awe and a wonderful sense of fellowship with the man in the corner nearest him. Gongs immediately the square of light was cleared again for the fight.

JUST NUTS

The Constitution's Weekly Business Review

EDITED BY M. D. GLEASON

There is hardly a need for a want that cannot be filled out Atlanta's stores and factories.

TWENTY MILLIONTH FORD DRAWS CROWDS

"Twenty million is a huge sum no matter what it pertains to," says J. R. Duncan, well-known Ford car dealer, 1000 Marietta street, N. W., "but when it is the number of cars made by one organization, then it is truly a remarkable achievement."

"When the announcement came out of Detroit last winter that the twenty millionth Ford car was completed, that momentous event was not given the recognition in Detroit that it has since received throughout the country, for no matter where that particular car is shown, great crowds gathered to look at it, yet it is no different from dozens of cars we have in stock here; but the significance of the volume sets people to thinking it is in the merit and low cost of the car that made it possible to make over 20,000,000 of them."

"The making of a commodity is one thing and the selling is another," continued Mr. Duncan, "and as the Ford car began to improve so did the selling agencies. We learned a lot in the nineteen and a half years we have been selling Ford cars, and feel justified in saying, in that long time in selling these popular priced cars, we have done our full share. This was made known in a telegram from the Detroit headquarters the last day of April, when we and another Marietta street dealer were accredited with leading the entire country above our sales quota during an extensive sales campaign."

"Our Ford cars, like the new Ford De Luxe sedan, the new Ford Fordor sedan, the new Ford Victoria and the new Ford De Luxe station, are all cars of distinctive appearance as well as sport and touring roadsters. These cars reflect the beauty of custom-built high-priced cars and take their place in the motorcade of the time as cars that add to the distinction of the event."

"The stream lines of the latest Ford cars are carried out from the deep radiator to the tip of the curving rear fender in an unbroken sweep. The triple-plate windshield lends an assurance of less risk in driving. The seats are low and comfortable, the upholstery is a revelation to all those who see these cars for the first time; deep tan Bedford cord of fine wool, worsted, or brown mohair cloth are optional. This long-wearing cloth is soft and luxurious and lends an atmosphere of comfort that one wonders what could be nicer in car upholstery."

The company also does a large used car business and deals in parts.

FRENCH WOMAN FLYER SEEKS DISTANCE MARK

LE BOURGET, France, June 25.—(AP)—Mme. Marjorie Bastie, well-known French flyer, took off from here at 5:02 a. m. today in an effort to reach Russia without making a stop and to break the straight line light airplane record.

The aviatrix, who was flying a 60-horsepower monoplane, carried about 115 gallons of gasoline, which was considered sufficient to reach Kazan without a stop.

IVY STREET GARAGE SPECIALLY DESIGNED

The Ivy Street Garage, located on Ivy opposite the Hurt building, is an extra large fireproof building that was designed and built for the servicing and storing of cars. Located as it is at the edge of the downtown shopping, hotel, theater, banking and office districts, it is easily accessible to all.

This large garage is more than a place to store a car or have it washed and oiled—it is a convenient meeting place for all car owners as well. They have a reception room with free ice water and telephone service. Many of their patrons have their daily purchases sent there in their name to be called for when going home.

The storage facilities of the Ivy Street Garage are good, being especially designed and arranged for the quick handling of cars. Their attendants in this department are quick and courteous; they will relieve you of your car where you designate and have it ready to deliver when and where the car owners wish.

In their gas and oil service department, the management has made a careful study of this vital question, and lends the benefit of their advice to car owners who may not know just the right grades of oils and gases to use in their cars. Their advice in these important matters very often save their patrons much time and expense and in many cases more miles per gallon or greater speed may be obtained as well as prolonging the life of the car.

The washing and polishing done at this garage is a thorough job that greatly improves the looks and wear of the car. Upon request they will clean the interior of the car and do it well. All cars stored with them or washed, polished, alighting down is under the direction of a superintendent.

WOOD PRESERVATIVE BUSINESS IMPROVES

The wood preservative business of the E. L. Bruce Company is growing rapidly, according to W. H. Sullivan, field inspector, who was in Atlanta last week. Mr. Sullivan stated that the business of the Bruce preservative group, is gaining wide popularity for use in exterminating termites, application companies now operating in 17 states. Field tests of Bruce preservatives are being conducted in the Canal Zone and arrangements are being made for testing in Africa and India—in all of which places termites are very destructive.

The local Bruce Terminus representative, the Terminus Company of Georgia, has a most interesting exhibit of termite and fungus destructiveness in their windows at 110 Ponce de Leon avenue. They report a large amount of termite activity in Georgia, in both houses and business buildings, and urge all building owners, particularly of cotton mills and warehouses, to take advantage of their free inspection offer as, taken in time, preventative measures will often save heavy losses in repairs and lost operating time.

BUILDING AND LOAN PAYS $250,000,000

Well over $250,000,000 will be paid July 1 of this year to members of building and loan associations in this country. This vast amount of a quarter of a billion dollars to be paid by these associations is interest and dividends since January 1 of this year, according to John H. Tait, managing director of the Columbia Building and Loan Association of this city.

Mr. Tait continued by stating that there were now well over 13,000,000 members with over $9,000,000,000 in assets in the building and loan associations of the country.

"These associations have been of an inestimable value, particularly so for the past two years, in safeguarding the millions of people's savings. When everything else seems to have gone wrong building and loan associations have stood staunch and unshaken in their unequalled safety," stated Mr. Tait.

"The Columbia association during its many years of operation has constantly paid 7 per cent to its savings members per annum, and as the association places its funds in first mortgages only, it is remarkable that it has never had a foreclosure."

There still is much public domain left in New Mexico and more than a billion acres are yet to be distributed under land laws in New Mexico, according to a survey of the United States forestry service, of this amount, 1,316,640 acres are surveyed and 1,347,640 acres are unsurveyed, making a total of 15,664,121 acres.

Week's Sharp Price Upturns Restore Business Confidence

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.
NEW YORK, June 25.—(AP)—

Business spirits were lifted during the past week by the worldwide wave of enthusiasm which has greeted the war debt holiday proposal.

If the actual volume of business activity has failed to respond notably it may be pointed out that business and trade are in the grip of the summer lull and the most powerful stimulus administered at this time could scarcely be expected to make them selves decisively felt until the approach of autumn.

A sudden return to prosperity levels would, in any event, be entirely contrary to past experience with major periods of depression. But there has been a strong feeling among leaders—among whom President Hoover figures prominently—that a vigorous upturn has been tending to prolong the depression, which has now been bumping bottom for six months.

Since the beginning of June, the general level of commodity prices had shown the most impressive stability in some three months and the war debt plan prompted a vigorous upturn. Such commodities as copper, zinc, lead, silver, hides and cotton have risen to levels about 7 to 17 per cent above those at the start of the month.

A sustained advance in commodity prices should carry the conviction that the turn of the times has come at last, after the disheartening false starts.

The current depression has worn on for more than 20 months. In past depressions it has required the better part of a year to restore normal prosperity. If the bottom is touched with the current summer lull, there-

GUARANTY TRUST SEES NEW ORLEANS COTTON SECOND HALF GAINS

NEW YORK, June 25.—(AP)—Although a definite improvement has yet to become visible, there is some basis for the growing belief that the lowest level of depression has been reached or will be seen in the very near future, and that some degree of tangible recovery should manifest itself during the second half of the year," the Guaranty Trust Company of New York says in a monthly review of business and finance.

American business passed through the first half of the year at a practically unchanged level, the review said.

"The very fact that six months have passed without bringing further significant improvement, however, adds, 'can reasonably be regarded as a sign that the process of readjustment is nearing completion."

"Moreover, the general level of activity appears to have reached approximately as low a point, in comparison with what is generally regarded as normal, as it ever did in the course of past depressions. The recent behavior of security and commodity markets has also been considerably more reassuring than it was during the first half of the year."

The review finds that the immediate and enthusiastic response of financial markets to President Hoover's debt holiday proposal suggests that this step, if the negotiations are successful, should be a powerful influence working toward worldwide trade recovery.

Wall Street Briefs.

NEW YORK, June 25.—After three weeks of comparatively heavy bond offerings by states and municipalities, the Bond Buyer reports, new financing in that class totaled this week a total of $1,011,211, compared with $439,307,450 the weekly average for the year to date is $1,109,370. Among the larger issues scheduled this week are $2,000,000 South Carolina 16-year highway certificates of indebtedness due Wednesday; $2,000,000 Iowa 10-year bonds on the same day; and $1,000,000 Jackson County (Missouri) road and bridge bonds Tuesday.

Output of natural gas in the three largest producing states, Texas, Oklahoma and California, has increased approximately four times since 1920, while the number of users has multiplied more than six times, the Apalachian Gas Corporation reports. Production in the three states in 1930 was 1,015,000,000 cubic feet, compared with 256,000,000 cubic feet in 1920.

fore, the end of the depression should be reached when it is about 30 months old.

It is significant that in modern industrial history only two depressions lasted more than 30 months. Those were in 1876-1879 and 1896-1898. In the former, the United States was having difficulty in returning to the gold standard. In the latter, national economy was upset by the threat of the gold standard offered by the free coinage of silver agitation. Moody's points out that there has been an extraordinary influence in this depression, outside of the normal workings of the economic cycle. It has been the difficulties connected with international debts.

The past week's business statistics have shown little save seasonal influences at work. Steel output and automobile-making have quieted further. Steel output was placed by Iron Age at 36 per cent of capacity, or close to the levels of last December. Freight car loadings, as reported for the second week of June, show a decline of more than 28,000 from the previous week. Bank clearings, as reported for leading cities by Dun's, showed a drop from the preceding week of about 20 per cent, or substantially larger than expected. Retail trade generally held the gains of the previous week, but showed little change.

Copper has advanced from 8 to 8 3/4 cents and buying has appeared in large volume. Primary textile markets also report more activity and higher prices. The petroleum industry is talking of an upturn in prices in the mid-continent area, following the end of the price-cutting war in California.

There were significant developments in the money market. The Federal Reserve bank of New York announced that the interstate commerce commission would grant a general freight rate increase of 7 1/2 to 10 per cent. With a few exceptions the gains in the rails were much narrower than in foreign bonds.

Industrial obligations enjoyed more consistent strength than the foreign bonds. The gains among them were from day to day were of minor proportions. Public utilities were restrained in their advance. Stock prices showed more activity and sympathy with the corresponding stocks.

ALL BOND GROUPS JOIN IN ADVANCE

BY ALEXANDER HENDERSON.
NEW YORK, June 25.—(AP)—

The general advance in bonds last week extended to all groups, although at times the emphasis shifted from one to another.

Foreign issues enjoyed the greatest degree of strength, and rail issues were second. The advance was clearly part of the upward movement in financial markets following the advocacy of a moratorium on international debts by the federal government.

Strength in the foreign obligations appeared first among German issues which reacted somewhat and closed below the week's peak prices. Other European bonds appreciated to a smaller extent. Reports that the federal government was considering means of extending financial assistance to Latin American countries served to boost their bonds in a sensational way on Friday, after moderate gains earlier in the week. The net gains for the week in a number of cases were as high as 10 points and a few scored even greater advances.

Railroad bonds jumped ahead on Friday when reports were received that the interstate commerce commission would grant a general freight rate increase of 7 1/2 to 10 per cent. With a few exceptions the gains in the rails were much narrower than in foreign bonds.

BRIM-CHAMBLEE CO. FEATURES SERVICE

The Brim-Chamblee Company, located at 346 Courtland street, is an auto renewal garage that is well-known for the completeness and efficiency of its service. The proprietors, G. D. Brim and Roy Z. Chamblee, are rated as two of the best Buick mechanics in this part of the state and they have surrounded themselves with several more first-class mechanics who have had years of experience on all makes of cars.

Their experts have learned in their daily experience in repairing and adjusting troubles of the engine or motor of the various makes of cars, the quickest way to give satisfactory results; and this is the first and main reason why this repair shop is so popular with car owners in this section.

This progressive auto service shop has a complete upholstery department, which has become very popular with all those who have had any kind of auto top, rear upholstery, trimming or curtain work done. The work they do in this line looks as good as when the car was bought new, and is very pleasing to their gratified customers.

They are doing some extra fine work in their painting department at this time. Their equipment for this kind of work is of the latest and improved kind and enables them to do a great deal of work in a short time. Their duco work is a revelation to the car owners who bring in their cars to be painted.

This garage has a group of experts who give special attention to wheel alignments. These troubles should be given more serious consideration by the average car driver, for wheels running out of line with each other are the cause of many serious and fatal accidents. One or more wheels running out of line, that is "toeing in" or "toeing out," have to fight the road every mile they make, and this is the main reason why some tires wear more quickly than others, on the car.

The reputation the Brim-Chamblee Company has for complete service is well known.

TENNESSEE ASSEMBLY FACES BIG TASK

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 25.—(AP)—While Tennessee's general assembly prepares to adjourn Thursday after stretching its 75-day biennial session over six months, it faces the prospect of hundreds of bills being crowded entirely off the calendars.

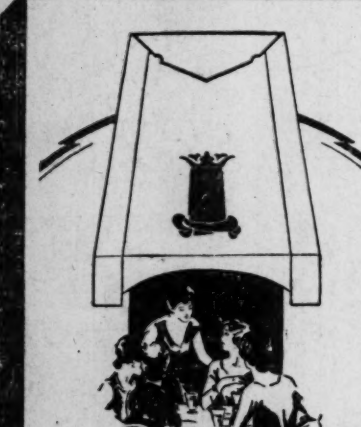

In two days consideration of the general appropriations bill, the senate has made slight progress. Already additions totaling almost $100,000 have been placed on the $28,000,000 bill passed by the house and others have been proposed. All changes must be concurred in or the differences ironed out by the two houses before adjournment.

The reason why they are so popular. Car owners who are served there once, very often drive miles out of their way just to have them look over their car when expecting to make a long trip. The experienced driver knows the importance of the little minor troubles and is wise enough to have them done when it will cost but little, rather than wait later when it may cause serious trouble, loss of time and much larger expense.

Living-room Out of door with AWNINGS

AWNINGS throw out protecting wings on sides and front and back to make even the modest home much larger in appearance... much more livable in fact. An awning porch or terrace is truly a living room out-of-doors. An awning over an end covered deck makes an added sleeping room. But remember, the wise investor chooses awnings carefully from a firm that is reliable from start to finish.

Damage by FIRE in a home may or may not occur. Damage by TERMITES is a certainty, if they once start. If it pays to insure against a possibility, is it not good business to insure against a certainty?
